Passburg Happenings

Jim Hawkins, from Spring Creek was peddling his special brand of Alberta spuds in town on Monday.

W. L. Hamilton made a business trip to Calgary on Friday, returning home on Sunday morning.

Harold and Ernie Houghton, of the 13th C.M.A., were up from Pincher Creek for the week end.

N. Howells, who held the position of pit-hose here, left on Saturday night for Edmonton, where he has secured a position as mine manager.

One of Gillingham's eligible young men spent a few hours here on Sunday, teaching one of our young ladies motor driving. Both the teacher and pupil seemed to enjoy the lesson.

The poet says that "In spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." We presume that young ladies have similar thoughts, which may account for the frequent trips one of our young ladies makes to Pincher Creek.

The son of the editor of the Northern News, Athabasca, while returning to England from Sweden, missed his boat by thirty minutes, and thereby missed being torpedoed, as the boat was afterwards sunk by a mine.

We were favored on Wednesday morning by a visit from the man who manufactures bills for the Workers' Hall picture shows at Bellevue. He is proud to be recognized as a "contemporary."

Another Letter From A Blaimore Boy

The following is from a letter from Corporal Walter Howe to his parents, bearing date of Feb. 28th, 1915.

"Received yours of February 4th, also papers. We had a great laugh (the Muckled boys and us) about the Frank football meeting, presided over by ex-mayor Dan Dunlop.

"We only came out of the trenches this morning. We have been doing twenty-four hours in and twenty-four hours out, but will be moved from here before you get this.

"Aunt M. sent me some cigarettes and matches, and believe me they came in handy.

"We are getting along fine out here, and have been under heavy fire once or twice, but came out O.K. I was certainly tired when we turned in this morning. While in trenches last night three or four of us got together and started to sing. The Germans immediately stopped firing and let one single bullet come over. We were only eight yards from German trenches.

"March 2nd—Who do you think I met today? Ryan, formerly 'trouble' shooter at Blaimore. He is with engineers, and was just going to the trenches. He is stopping at the same town as we are, so we may meet again. I also met an old Lethbridge chum. It's good to meet an old friend, especially here. We are having a rest before going into the trenches again. It helped to get writing materials sometimes out here.

Europe's Game of Cards

"I'll go one, said Austria.
"I'll go two, said France.
"I'll go three, said Russia.
"Because I've got a chance.
"I'll go four, said Germany.
"And wipe you off the map.
But the blither fell dead

In connection with the above, it is intended to make certain improvements to Victoria Street. Employment will only be given to those who are subjects for immediate relief and the relief committee will exercise every precaution to see that the money is spent to advantage. Blaimore Red Cross

The executive of the Red Cross desire to thank the townspeople of both Frank and Blaimore for co-operating so heartily with them in providing refreshments for the banquet on Saturday evening last. At 4.30 o'clock there will be a business meeting. It is hoped that many as possible of our men also, who are interested in Red Cross work, will make it a point to be present at this business meeting as the question of a donation towards the enlargement of the Duchess of Connaught's Red Cross Hospital, Clarendon, Buckinghamshire, England will be discussed.

At the request of the British War Office, the hospital just mentioned is to be enlarged to accommodate 500 additional beds. As this is to be the base hospital for members of the Canadian contingents, it is desirable that branches of the Red Cross Society all over Canada contribute towards the expense which will amount in all to $80,000. $50,000 will install one bed, and beds so paid for will be named after the donor.

Annual Meeting of Central Baptist Church

The annual meeting of Central Baptist church was held on Wednesday evening the 24th, when a fair attendance turned out, notwithstanding the stormy weather. Encouraging reports were given of the finances, the Sunday school, the young people's society and membership standing.

The treasurer's report showed receipts amounting to $820.25, and disbursements of $638.00, leaving a balance of $182.25 on hand. During the year the church debt of $204.00 had been wiped out, and $80 was contributed to missions.

The Sunday school had been keeping up an average attendance of about forty, including four teachers. There were in the neighborhood of sixty children enrolled, and a few were lost to the school owing to removals. The cost of running the school, for supplies, amounted to about $25 last year, which was met by collections.

The membership report indicated an increase of five during the year and a total church membership of forty-six, thirty-six of whom were resident.

Election of officers resulted as follows: Board of Deacons—Rev. J. F. Hunter, P. M. Piquette, J. J. Thomas, and J. W. Braden, the latter three being re-elected.

Given Send-off

For some time past the matter of giving a "send-off" to those who have recently volunteered for service from this district had been occupying the minds of our citizens, and the question was brought to a successful issue on Saturday last, when the citizens of Frank and Blaimore joined in extending a farewell to our jolly Canadian boys.

The occasion of the house had been fittingly decorated for the occasion by a committee under the leadership of Mr. H. E. Lyon, and arrangements were made with the Red Cross society, to look after the banquet end of the programme.

At 7 p.m. upwards of two hundred guests partook of the delicacies provided by the ladies, after which an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. W. H. Muncester, B.D., who was introduced by the chairman, Mr. Lyon. Other speakers included Revs. W. T. Young and J. F. Hunter, all of whom entertained the large gathering with inspiring and appropriate addresses.

Some of the best vocal and instrumental talent of The Pass were on hand and this part of the programme was particularly interesting, consisting mainly of patriotic selections.

Dancing commenced at 9 o'clock and continued until midnight, the music being furnished by the Coleman orchestra.

Upwards of thirty soldiers were in attendance, being members of the Pincher Creek, Macleod and Lethbridge contingents.

On Sunday night, a joint divine service was held at the opera house, the building being practically thronged with people. Revs. W. T. Young, J. F. Hunter, W. H.

Convictions for "first offences" against the Nova Scotia temperance act continue at the rate of about fourteen a week. The spacious auditorium of the police barracks afforded accommodation to a large number of citizens, as well as considerable entertainment, on Tuesday morning of this week. Judge Pinkney presided, and the different boxes were as usual guarded by detachments from the mounted police force. In a nearby cage posed an innocent looking individual who was suffering confinement because of the evil imaginations of another much younger and weaker minded individual. Thomas Ede, Blairmore's old stand-by in the legal fraternity, occupied positions alternately on the floor and a chair. After the opening of Court in the name of His Most Excellent Majesty King George the Fifth, the doors of the cage swung open to allow of the exit of its inmate. The accused, Fred Handley, appeared to answer the charge of having threatened to do bodily harm to Mrs. Frank Rosbach with a pocket knife. He pleaded not guilty. Frank Rosbach was called upon to give his testimony, and his manner of speech was not such as would excite the sympathy of a learned judge or anyone in attendance. On being cross-examined by Mr. Ede, Rosbach displayed a certain amount of contempt. According to his statement, he acknowledged himself as the aggressor, having first of all accused Mr. Handley, a respectable man of advanced years, while he himself was a young and vigorous youth. Examination of witnesses went to prove that Handley, instead of threatening to soil his coat with a knife on this young individual, was simply trying to occupy his mind in the silent and peaceful task of cutting tobacco. One witness stated that he had occasion to speak to the two men on the street, advising them to have a little sense and to quit their childish quarrel, which started over the statement that "the United States was proving herself a sucker for Japan, etc., etc." Fortunately the relations between these two great nations still stand unimpaired. After taking all the evidence for the Crown, Solicitor Ede addressed the Court at great length and asked that the case be dismissed. His Worship, in complying with the request of the learned solicitor, warned those present of the seriousness of the charge made against Handley on this occasion, which if proven would result in a severe punishment being meted out. The case was consequently dismissed.
